

I am very pleased with Wisconsin's "No Call List" program. I, like most Americans, am perfectly capable of finding product information without having our precious few moments with our family in the evening constantly interrupted with nuisance calls. If we care about family time and family health, our time together in our homes should be protected.

Norma Gilson